Vermont Children's Aid Society Elects New Board Members

Winooski, VT -- Executive Director Steve Habif announces that Vermont Children's Aid Society has elected new members to its board of directors.

Dennis Myrick of St. Johnsbury and Heidi Pelletier of Montpelier have accepted three-year terms as members of the volunteer board.

Continuing members are Board President Bruce Jacobs of Richmond, Vice President Denise Nagelschmidt of Colchester, Treasurer Wes Daum, Jr., Secretary Bill Baker of North Hero, and Immediate Past President Richard Engel of Manchester, as well as members Joseph Finnigan of South Burlington, Kasia Fodor of South Hero, Chris Francis of Stowe, Suzanne Griffiths of Craftsbury, Charlie Hall of Windsor, JoAnn McKee of Burlington, Josh Patrick of Hinesburg, and Sarah Weisman of Burlington. Board members provide financial oversight, assist with securing revenue, and help increase awareness of the issues facing Vermont's children and families.

Vermont Children's Aid Society is a private not-for-profit organization with offices in Winooski and Woodstock, Vermont. Our professional staff has been supporting and strengthening families since 1919 through a variety of comprehensive programs including adoption services, child and family counseling, a children's summer camp, and programs for families affected by a parent's incarceration. VCAS is dedicated to the provision of services which seek to support and strengthen families, and promote safe, stable, and nurturing environments for children.

VCAS is a member of six United Way chapters in Vermont as well as a member of the Child Welfare League of America and a recipient of the Better Business Bureau's Charity Seal. To learn more, visit www.vtcas.org.
